HIGHWAY ROBBERY. Man Knocked Down and Robbed of

Late last evening a man named W. R. Witherford, who lives on the Nolensville pike, about six miles from the city, was walking through Criddle street in the neighborhood of the jungles, when he was knocked down by one James Myers, who was in company with Wm. Brown and the notorious Bose Haley. Mr. Witherford made complaint at the police station that he had been robbed of $140 in currency by the trio mentioned above, all of whom were arrested. Haley and Brown gave bond for their appearance this morning, and Myers was committed to the workhouse. Full development will be made at the trial this morning.

The New Bridge Question. We are reliably informed that in the event a free bridge is stretched across the Comberland, upwards of $100,000 will be invested in manufacturing establishments on the Edgefield side of the river. An effort is now being made to induce the county commissioners to subscribe in behalf of the county $50,000 to the new bridge, and if this is done there will be no difficulty in raising the rest.

The people of Edgefield are clamorou for a new crossing place, and if the free bridge is a failure, it is more than likely that an attempt will be made to raise sufficient stock to build the same. While the iron is hot, we say strike for a new bridge and a street railroad.

Fight. A lively little fight occurred on Broad treet Sunday last, between a youth named Adler and two men named Bernsteins During the melee one of the Bernsteins drew a pistol and threatened to shoot his antagonist. The Bernsteins were arrested day morning. But the arrest and fine did oot seem to cool them down, for on last evening the same party had another round, and were rearrested, and gave bond or their appearance before the Police Commissioner this morning.

Accident to Gen. Cooper. On Saturday night last, Gen. Joseph A. Cooper, who was promenading around the Capitol, had the misfortune to fall f.om the last portico to the ground floor, a distance of some twelve or fifteen feet, by which he sustained injuries which however we are glad to say were not serious. His left wrist was dislocated, and his foot and ancle sprained, but fortunately no bones were broken. He is at present confined to his bed, but will be able to be out again in a few days.

The warden of the penitentiary gave a favorable report in his behalf, and he therefore is released from confinement some three weeks before the expiration of his Arkansas Tooth Pick. Upon the person of one J. W. Streets who was picked up by the police yesterday for drunkenness, was found a large bowie knife, a very dangerous looking indrument in close quarters. Upon the charge of carrying concealed weapons, he
